

The Center for Advancement,
Renewal and Education presents

Parent Workshops 2009-10

▶ Exclusively for
Educare Families

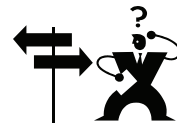

Thursday, November 5, 2009

"Temperament Types"

Did you know that nine different components make up a child's temperament? Come and learn about the three most common temperament types that children display and effective ways to address each personal way of being in order to help children and parents live together more happily.

Wednesday, February 10, 2010

"Preventing Problems"

The key to preventing problems regarding children's behaviors is to be aware of how the environment, schedule, and parenting style can and does affect children's abilities to behave appropriately. Discussion will focus on planning appropriate experiences for children that will support more positive behaviors.

Tuesday, April 13, 2010

"Routines & Rules"

Children thrive on routines and rules but how much of each is appropriate? How can families develop routines and rules that meet the needs of their children and the family as a whole? Selecting several key rules and diligently teaching and enforcing them can lead to a more predictable environment for children and families.

All workshops are held at Educare from 6:30—8:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m. for families. Childcare is provided but is limited. Cost for childcare is $5.00 per child. Child care fees can be paid in advance or at the night of the workshop. Please register at the front desk. There is no charge for parents to attend the monthly workshops.

Facilitator:

Sue Mogard, M.S., is a human developmentalist specializing in promoting positive development in children and those who live and work with children. She is also owner/operator of Educare Learning Center.